DiscussIT Topic 6: Where is our country headed?

Discuss IT Topic: Over the last week, our country has had growing concerns on immigration bans, border safety, and executive orders that remind us of issues that have been plaguing our country for years. Now that Trump has been elected President, there has been people threatening to blow up the White House, human right protests, and a plethora of other sensitive subject matters that are very compelling to individual groups of people. Why have these issues come up now as we head into a time in which it seems no one is going to be happy with the outcomes? Will this create a split in this country and place citizens against one another when it comes to their views? In your opinion, what other topics are at the forefront of concern? Explain...

Response: Please make sure all grammar, spelling, indentation, and punctuation is correct.

These issues have come up because we have now confronted them. There are people with different opinions all over the USA, and not everyone will agree. Especially with many people being brainwashed and made them think one certain way. I'm afraid that this had already happened. People have been killed and abused because they think in a certain way. This may just fuel that even more.

I think that another topic that will continue to affect our country is racism. Yes it has improved but it still greatly exists. People still have views about others because of their skin color or ethnicity. There is still wrong judgment. In addition, immigration will keep on being a big problem. We are still trying to find the correct way to handle with immigrants. Many people have their own beliefs and there is lots of controversy. Many people have family in other countries and want them to come over, but some people don't want that because there may be a certain risk in that to the country. Everyone has their own opinion on certain topics. The point is to find a way that we can discuss them peacefully.
